November 19, 2026 | 1:00-2:00 p.m. ET

Multiple accrediting organizations have reported their top findings over the last year. Unfortunately, many of them are the same findings that have been at the top of these lists for years. Let's discuss what they are, talk about potential causes, and work on implementing fixes.

After attending this session, participants will be able to:

- Identify frequently cited physical environment and life safety findings across multiple accrediting organizations
- Identify potential causes
- Identify remediation techniques to help solve the problem(s)
